Utah Listed As State Which Failed to Raise Enough for Own Republican Campaign; George White Says Democratic Chest is About Empty.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Denial under oath that he had never seen, heard of or ordered made up the list of campaign quotas assigned to various states as charged by Governor Cox in the latter's recent speech at Pittsburg, was made today by Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee, in testimony before the senatorial committee investigating campaign expenses. Chairman Kenyon of the committee called attention to the list, saying it totaled more than $5,000,000.

"The first time I ever saw the list was in the newspapers the day after the Cox speech," said Mr. Upham. "Furthermore, no one in my office made up such a list with my knowledge or consent."

Mr. Upham also denied flatly that the official bulletin issued from his office to field workers engaged in raising the Republican campaign fund were secret or counseled secrecy. He pointed out that the only prohibition in that respect referred to publishing lists of contributors in local newspapers.

"Such a list was published in one city," he said, "and several persons objected to seeing their names in print."

BANKS SEND MONEY

Two banks in New York, one in Chicago, one in Boston and one in San Francisco, as well as two individuals have contributed to the $500,000 borrowed by the Republican national committee. Mr. Upham told the committee that the loans were made on authority of the party executive committee and do not constitute a legal obligation on which the lenders could sue the committee members, the witness said.

Included in the amount they loaned the committee are: Liberty National bank, New York, $25,000; First National bank, Boston, $50,000; Continental and Commercial National bank, Chicago, $50,000; Chase National bank, New York, $25,000; Crocker National bank, San Francisco, $25,000; Walter S. Dicksey, $25,000.

PRICK OF HAYNETS

Before leaving the stand Mr. Upham, questioned by Senator Kenyon, entered a categorical denial to Governor Cox's charges that "special interests" were financing the Republican campaign.

"Is any campaign being made among those who use the federal reserve bank?" Senator Kenyon asked.

"No," he replied. "Is any campaign to raise money being conducted among people who want to put down labor disputes with the bayonet?"

"No, sir," he replied. "You inquired the price of bayonets?" Senator Reed interjected. "Yes, they are very cheap."

UTAH G. O. P. FINANCES

In giving the list of sums raised by the party for national and state campaigns, Republican Treasurer Upham listed Utah among the eleven states which failed to raise enough for their state campaign.

According to the treasurer's figures Utah Republicans contributed $4,893.41 and the national Republican committee contributed $1,853, making the total $2,000.00.

Idaho also failed to raise enough to meet state expenses, he said, and the national committee gave Idaho $2,750.

On demand of Senator Reed the committee sent Mr. Upham back to his office to produce the much discussed "quota sheet" showing the amount each state was asked to raise for both national and state campaign purposes.

Mr. Upham was instructed to be back at 2 o'clock with the evidence demanded, and Representative S. D. Fess, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, was called to the stand.

BRITTON ON GRILL

Fred A. Britton, Illinois congressman, failed to produce any evidence to support his recent charge that $77,500 subscribed by the British government for "entertainment purposes" at the British embassy in Washington had found its way into the Democratic national committee's fund.

Under a grilling examination by Senator Reed and Pomerene, Democrat, Mr. Britton admitted he had no facts to support the charge and that it was only his personal idea.

BOILER PLATE NEWS.

Mr. Britton asked the committee to subpoena Thomas W. Lamont, owner of the New York Post, the head of Doubleday, Page and company, publishers, and officials of the Western Newspaper Union, a syndicate supplying "boiler plate" to newspapers. He presented an advance proof sent by the plate syndicate to newspapers of having them, free of charge, with shipping charges prepaid, plates of a story entitled "Trade Sam of Freedom Ridge," which he said to be an argument in favor of the league of nations. He said he believed British interests were financing league propaganda. The committee summoned the league of the Western Newspaper Union.
